

SAVE THE DATE

Student Evaluations of Teaching (SETs): inherently flawed, but can they be useful, and if so, how?

A panel led by:

Jillian Crocker, Sociology
Manya Mascareno, Biological Sciences and
Geta Techanie, Math/CIS

Thursday, October 19th, 2023

2:40 PM – 3:40 PM

NAB 1100 A/B

This is a hybrid event that you can join via Zoom:

<https://suny-ow-edu.zoom.us/j/85977952805?pwd=Ga7UpZKbSoyoEtpe8zGqbPivziqKTp.1>

Zoom (Meeting ID: 859 7795 2805 and Passcode: 078647)

Panelists will address questions such as "Given that SETs have well-documented intrinsic and systemic problems that are difficult if not impossible to eliminate, can they be useful, and if so, how?"

Bring your questions for the panelists! These questions will help guide the discussion.

Contact: TLRC Chair Yogesh More at morey@oldwestbury.edu

Snacks and light refreshments will be provided.